SHOWCASING SOME OF THE BEST SPACES AND PLACES
FROM AROUND THE KITCHEN AND BATHROOM SECTOR

DRUMMONDS, NEW YORK

British luxury bathroom brand Drummonds has opened its first US showroom with a large presentation space in the D&D Building in New York.

Central to the displays are the company's classic freestanding baths and vanities, including the Double Lowther (below) with its twin basins and hand carved marble top.

The company manufactures its own products using traditional techniques, with baths made by casting raw metal, shotblasting, and then the lengthy process of enamelling to create a soft white yet durable surface. Each bath is then finished to individual requirements, with hand polishing, copper cladding, or painting in the client's chosen colour.

As well as the recently opened New York location, Drummonds also has showrooms in London's Chelsea and Notting Hill.
