DRUMMONDS, NEW YORK

British bathroom brand Drummonds has opened its first standalone showroom in New York.

Based in the A&D Building on Manhattan's Upper East Side, the 124 sq m showroom has been designed to show off the craftsmanship and traditional manufacturing of the manufacturer's product ranges.

The company's latest additions are on display, including the Wye Bath in a burnish copper finish, and the Martin Brudnizki-designed Leawood shower and tap collection. There are also classics such as the cast iron Usk Bateau bath and the freestanding Severn Shower.

The showroom marks an expansion of Drummonds' New York presence, having previously had a display space within the Lapidia showroom in the same building. The brand also has London showrooms in Chelsea and Notting Hill.
