LOVELY BUNCH

Targeting the right stuff for your kitchen and bathroom is a matter of skill, not chance. So, don't be shy - whether you're aiming for a bone-china soap dish or a whistling kettle. Nathalie Wilson will keep your eyes on the prizes. Photography: Rachael A. Smith

1 A double sailor's valentine by Tess Morley sits on the floor of the Goodwood Shell House. The valentine itself is made from blue limpets, green nerites, miniature white cowries, and rice-grain and apple-blossom shells, while the cream inset in the marble floor is made from horses' teeth. See page 204. 2 Trug, £2,158, Lanserring. Prices include VAT
