Left: Designers Luke Edward and Duncan Campbell decorated their Cotswolds farmhouse in bright colours. Case in point: this guest bath painted in a bright green from Little Greene. (Photo: Miguel Flores-Vianna.) Below: The master bath in an early 1900s New Jersey home designed by interior decorators William Diamond and Anthony Baratta—the tub is a reproduction; the Etoile tub spout is from Waterworks. (Photo: Jason Schmidt. Production: Cynthia Frank.) Facing page: A palm-wrapped powder room with a Mexican Talavera toilet and sink in a Los Angeles home designed by architect Nicolò Bini of local firm Line Architecture in collaboration with the homeowners.
